Altico Advisors Presents: Microsoft Dynamics GP 2010 Launch Event A sneak peek at the new release of GP

Suspense had been building around the new Microsoft Dynamics GP release, which is now officially called GP 2010 (as opposed to GP 11). Microsoft had been keeping most of the information about this new release close to the vest in anticipation of the formal launch at Convergence in April, but now that Convergence is behind us, the cat is out of the bag!

The list of enhancements in GP 2010 is 34 pages long, far too numerous to elaborate on here and far too numerous to show you in one sitting. But we're going to carefully select the ones we think are the coolest and most relevant to most of our clients.

Please join us on the morning of May 20th for a sneak peek at Microsoft Dynamics GP 2010.
